

JEAN PIERRE MALDANT

ALOXE CORTON 2020

Situated in Ladoix-Serrigny, at the foot of the hill of Corton, in the north of the Côte de Beaune, the Maldant's have been making wine in Burgundy for five generations, since 1895. In 1998, Jean-Pierre Maldant decided to give up his job working for the Hospices de Beaune and devote himself entirely to his own Domaine. His son, Pierre-François Maldant (pictured left), has now succeeded him at the head of the family Domaine, where he has been making the wines since 2010. Although the family has a rich tradition and history in the region, Pierre-François is one of the new rising stars of Burgundy.

COUNTRY: France

APPELLATION: Aloxé-Corton

REGION: Burgundy

VARIETAL: 100% Pinot Noir

ALCOHOL: 13.5%

AGING POTENTIAL: 5-10 years

SERVING TEMPERATURE: 15°C

TASTING NOTES: The red ladoix expresses itself in a rather tender way, marrying a round and full shape, a spherical velvet. It offers a good tannic structure.
